WE GREW UP WITH ELMIRA ... AND WE'RE PROUD OF IT!

Elmira was still a small village in 1853 when a group of enterprising citizens formed the Elmira Bank . . . predecessor of the Marine Midland Trust Company of Southern New York.

The capital contributed by the founders totalled $200,000; today the bank's assets have increased to nearly 1,000 times that amount! The story of the bank's growth is interwoven with the story of progress in Elmira. Today, Marine Midland provides modern banking service at five offices within Elmira, as well as offices in Elmira Heights and Horseheads. There are 11 other offices throughout the Southern Tier.

As Elmira stands on the threshold of a bright new century of renewal, expansion and growth, Marine Midland is proud to make available to the people of this community its huge financial resources and complete banking services . . . helping Elmira to become a finer, healthier and more prosperous city in which to live and work.
